New NGA director releases his intent for agency

October 6, 2014

SPRINGFIELD, Virginia. — On Oct. 3, his first day as the sixth director of the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency, Robert Cardillo shared his intent to “enable the intelligence community to create a dynamic, persistent, proactive intelligence service to guide our customers’ decisions, operations [and] actions, and position them – the customer, the warfighter – for success.”

Consequence for NGA’s customers is the ultimate objective of our efforts, said Cardillo. Delivering consequence is conveying content within context when customers need it.

“My challenge to you is to build on what you have accomplished by seeing the mission, vision and strategy through a new lens – the lens of consequence,” said Cardillo.
