

EXPLORE NGA

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT CAREERS

THE POWER OF GEOINT

The National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA) is a U.S. intelligence and combat support agency that provides policymakers, warfighters, intelligence professionals and first responders key information and insights. Whether you're implementing policy on cost, finance, accounting, or allocating manpower resources, a career with the NGA helps protect our nation and our world.

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Our Financial Managers formulate and execute budget resources; develop and allocate manpower resources; and provide guidance on implementing policy on cost, finance, and accounting.

Accounting

Accountants perform accounting and financial analyses and processes related to recording and reporting NGA's financial activity. They establish and implement procedures; prepare reports; and ensure the quality and accuracy of data and agency compliance with federal laws, regulations, accounting standards, and policies.

- Accountant

Finance

Financial Analysts research financial issues. They also evaluate financial operating statements and information to determine financial soundness and operating efficiency. They prepare and process financial transactions, to include computing entitlements such as pay, travel, and contractor/government invoices.

- Financial Analyst

Budget

Budget Analysts perform, advise, and supervise the planning, programming, budgeting, and the execution of the NGA's financial program. They provide financial analysis, guidance, and recommendations to stakeholders concerning budget requests and justifications by utilizing Agency financial tools.
